A FINE PICTURE OF ADVERTISER'S FOUNDER

In behalf of the family of the late H. M. Whitney, founder of the Advertiser, Mr. Harry Whitney has presented this office with a framed picture of the veteran journalist. It will hang in the editorial room beside the likeness of Henry N. Castle, whose editorship of the Advertiser is historic. The Gazette Company would be glad to receive similar pictures of other men, who, during the past fifty-two years, have served Hawaii's oldest secular paper in the same capacity.

Y. M. C. A. EMPLOYS NEW SECRETARY.

The work of the Y. M. C. A. has grown to such an extent that it has been found necessary to add another man to the force. Ray Soares has been appointed by the Board of Directors, and will begin his duties as office secretary Monday morning. The addition of a man to look after the office work of the association will relieve the general secretary and physical director of a good deal of detail, and make possible the inauguration of several new plans the board has had in mind for some time.
